The serving staff were excellent!	5	5	5		5	5	5	5	5	5	5	Entertainment was excellent, as usual. Vince did a great job singing! I think the pipers and dancers need a little bigger area to perform.	5	5	5	5	5		10	My only suggestion is to provide a larger area for the pipers and dancers to perform. Although the Wisconsin Club is very elegant, it was nice to go to a different venue.	Health and weather	No
No	Yes	5	5	5	5	Yes	5	3	5	5	3		Next time we'll bring our own plastic "spork" to use in the room. Fridge and Microwave fine.	5	5	3	5	5	Perhaps a larger portion of potatoes would be nice for both entrees.	3	4	3	It was better pricing than anywhere in Wisconsin Dells! Perhaps a wine cavale per table would be something classy to add for toasting. In Lodge, when we all toast, we use these special heavy duty glasses that we "bang" on the table at the same time. I think they call them toasting canons. It's a fun way to toast and sip wine.	5	5	5		4		5	Couldn't ask for anything more! And the acoustics were excellent!	3	5	3	4	5	I attended one 25 years ago as a "designated driver" rather than a real guest, but it left an impression on me. I thought it would be a good father-son experience, and we both enjoyed it very much.	9	I know that being in a club of volunteers, it can seem thankless. But, "thank you", my son and I had a great time. Our only true disappointment was the absence of a real auction. I only mention this because we were ready to pay a great deal for a bottle of something and share it with our table and pass it around. Perhaps that is not allowed, but after two brandy old fashioneds, my son and I were feeling warm, fuzzy, and generous. We left about 8:45, so maybe we missed the auction if it happened later. Yes	Yes	5	5	5	5	Yes	5	5	5	5	5		The suite was awesome and offered at a reasonable price.	5	5	5	5	5	Food was much better than last year. I tried both the walleye and chicken and they were both great. Salad was fresh and tasty. Appetizers were a nice addition. Dessert was delicious - unfortunatelt the tuxedo cake went too fast.	5	3	3	Great selection of whiskies. Should have had two bartenders from the start to minimize the wait. $25 for each Macallan was too high. I would like to see a listing of prices so I can make an informed selection and purchase.	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	The pipe and dance program was unbelievable. The atrium was the best venue for this program. I loved seeing the other people staying at the hotel enjoying the program.	5	3	4	2		I love the fellowship.	10	List the bar pricing and possibly offer a red meat choice. More chocolate desserts next year, please! Cheesecake was great. The haggis was outstanding!	5	3	2	Whisky prices were too high. There was a long line for the bar to start.	5	4	5	5	5	5	5	Loved the new venue for the entertainment! Having members of the public avidly watching was a bonus. Being led out by the pipers was great. Having it short without all the talking and explaining in between was great. Lots of dance participation, which was fun. The sound was excellent. Truly a wonderful entertainment evening from the pipes and drums and dancers. Fingwater was great – better after they weren't quite as loud. The address to a haggis was wonderful. Having Ian sing is always a treat. The man who sang the National Anthem and a Burns song was also great. I liked that we could actually talk at the table, which we weren't able to do last year.	5	3	4	3		I attend because I love the people who generally attend and I enjoy making new friends with people who enjoy Scottish culture.	9	Lower prices for whisky.	Being with friends and enjoying talking with them.	Yes

The second one to arrive did not know how to make an old fashioned. Whiskey selection was great. It was nice having an open tab but I personally would rather the money go to relieving the distressed. Drink prices were reasonable I thought. Too bad about flasks not being allowed but understandable.	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	Could have used some more seating but very nice show. Yes	Yes	4	5	4	5	No							N/A	1	5	2	2	5	I had the chicken marsala. It was a very small piece, dry and tough. The sauce was not marsala...never had marsala made with balsamic vinegar and mustard. I had to add some Italian dressing to make it palatable. The chef needs to review the recipe for this dish. Asparagus was well prepared and roasted potatoes were dry. Salad was good. Whatever the cost was for the food, I would say it wasn't worth it.	3	3	3	They needed more than one bar and more than 2 bartenders!	4	4	4	4	4			Dance and Pipe program was good but the Atrium felt too small for it and because of the high ceilings it was really loud. It's not your fault, but of Embassy Suites, not informing you of their policies. With the food and quantity, was great. Excellent, but then couldn't take home leftovers. I've moved on, with no malice towards them, but next year bring my own doggie bags, if necessary. Thanks 🙏🏻again for all your hard work and dedication, to a great society. Yes	Yes	5	5	5	5	No						5	Didn't stay overnight.	3	5	5	4	5	We understand that it's a hotel. The value was great. The food was slightly above average. The fish was well presented and certainly a large portion, but really pretty tasteless. A little seasoning would have been appreciated, but the potatoes were delicious.	5	5	3	$14 per glass of scotch seemed a bit high. If we had known that the first drinks were part of the meal price, we would have ordered scotch first. Live and learn, I guess.	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	Every part of the entertainment was fabulous! The pipe band had a venue to really show off and it was fun to see other hotel guests sharing our beloved culture. Fingwater is always a perfect choice.	5	5	5	5		We look forward to the conversation, the entertaining experience and the absolutely welcoming feeling of being part of the Burns Dinner.	10	Hotel food can be tuned up a bit. More clarity on when the drinks stop being part of the meal price and start costing $14 a glass!	Hard to choose just one, but we loved the venue and would look forward to going there again. He had been a member long enough to remember the event at a venue near the airport and downtown at the Shore? He would prefer the Wisconsin Club in the future. He was very impressed with how well the event was organized and followed the program. He said he would have no problem with a higher cost. When we got up to the bar we told that it ended because they "hit the limit." We then paid $28 for two glasses of whisky, which I felt was a tad steep..	5	5	5	5	5	5	5	I cannot say enough about the entertainment, from the pipers, to Ian, to Fingwater to the Burns tribute, it was exceptional in all ways. I wouldn't change a thing!	5	5	5	5		I attended the Burns dinner annually during the 70's and 80's.
